At Roseville, Baker and Neves; at Folsom, Clancy and Moeller, at Loomis, Tindall and Davis; at Auburn, Winkelman and Perry.

Manager Al Prince leads the Bartlets into their second game on "foreign soil" Sunday when the club lines up against Loomis, on the Loomis field.

Although the Placer County lads are at the bottom of the heap in the standings, they played a sixteen inning tie game last Sunday with Grass Valley.

The Bartlets defeated Grass Valley at Bennett Park in the league opener, 13 to 9, and Bartlett backers are wondering whether the sixteen-inning game last Sunday was just "one of those things, or whether it means that Loomis has found its stride.

Egg Marketing Study Opened

Farm Bureau Committee Will Make Survey Of Prices In County And Vicinity

Under the chairmanship of W. G. Collyer, head of the county Farm Bureau poultry department, that organization has begun an egg marketing survey for El Dorado County and vicinity.

Mr. Collyer heads a committee of three on the project and the other two members are L. A. Bender and William Dunn.

The survey was instituted to determine whether it is true that at certain stores, eggs are being sold as "leaders" and sometimes at a price less than cost.

The Farm Bureau members feel that if stores are to cut prices on articles for the sake of establishing "leaders" to attract trade, such price-cutting should be on other than local products since price-cutting on products produced locally tends to demoralize the market.

20 DEAD, 21 MISSING IN MINE FIRE

Officials Abandon Hope That Any Of Crew Survived Blast And Flames Sweeping Mine

HANGER, Va. (UP)—Twenty charred and mangled bodies were removed from a Keen Mountain coal mine today after an explosion and fire turned into a funeral pyre.

Company officials said that 41 men were believed to have been in the mine when it was swept by a terrific explosive blast. Rescue workers believed the 21 men still missing could not have survived the fire and explosion.

Rescue workers fought their way through intense heat to recover five more charred bodies shortly after daylight. Twelve had been recovered during the night, and three were found outside the mine immediately following the explosion which wrecked the mine late yesterday afternoon.

Red Jack Coal Company officials said they knew that at least 28 men had been trapped by the "dust" explosion. Other unofficial estimates ran as high as 50. Because of the fire that apparently was burning far into the mine's tunnels there was no chance that any had survived.

U. S. TO CEMENT CULTURAL TIES WITH LATIN AMERICA

By HARRY W. FRANTZ

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The United States is ready to meet the challenge of European countries in the "cultural arena" of Latin America, where the seven arts have become major adjuncts to diplomacy in the struggle for national prestige, commerce, and good will.

Italy and Germany led the cultural onslaught against Latin America, to be followed by Great Britain and France, with the result that United States official and unofficial organizations have taken new inventory of this country's facilities for cultural co-operation with the American republics.

Unlike European countries, where propaganda devices and aids tend to come increasingly within scope of direct governmental activity, the United States cultural activity, the United States cultural program vis-a-vis Latin America appears likely to develop chiefly through unofficial institutions equipped to conduct programs on a Continental scale.

Government officials will lend more active moral encouragement to such efforts, as, for example, through the forum afforded by the Pan American Union and the grant of radio broadcasting channels.

MEASLES ACTIVE IN COUNTY

Rising Temperature, Catarrhal Symptoms; 25 Reported Cases During Month

Stating that 25 new cases have been reported during the past month and inferring that perhaps as many other cases exist but were unreported, county health officials Saturday called attention to the prevalence of measles throughout the county.

Dr. A. A. McKinnon, county health officer, reports the disease threatens to become an epidemic and urged upon all parents their duty to report all new cases.

The usual symptoms of the disease include a catarrhal cold and a mounting temperature. It is advised that when these symptoms appear, the child should be put to bed and the parents should, if possible, consult their doctor.

Children who have the disease should be isolated from other children for seven days after the rash appears.

"Public co-operation in the prompt discovery of new cases and in the isolation of known cases can do much to help prevent an epidemic," Dr. McKinnon said.

There will be three community programs observing Public Schools Week in the county, it was announced Saturday morning.

The schools of the western part of the county are uniting for the program and the principal speaker will be Leo F. Baisden, deputy superintendent of Sacramento Public Schools.

In addition to the program, it is understood that arrangements are being made to follow out the "open house" idea and display some of the work of the pupils.

10-YEAR-OLD "ESCORT" OF GIRL, 13, TO BE SENT HOME

LOS ANGELES, (UP)—Pat Kropp, 10-year-old Las Vegas, Nev., boy was in the county jail today, having completed his role as "protector" for 13-year-old Mary Louise Snyder, who hitchhiked from Las Vegas to visit her mother here.

Mary Louise was at the home of her mother, Mrs. Lydia Harman. She had been living with her father in Las Vegas but had expressed a desire to be with her mother, who is divorced from her father, and enlisted the aid of the Kropp boy is the role of "protector."

Deputy sheriffs are holding the boy until they receive word from his father in Las Vegas.

The Kropp boy had 15 cents and the Snyder girl 40 cents when they started out from Las Vegas. A truck driver brought them as far as Barstow, where they were let out. They were picked up by a salesman who took them as far as Pomona, in Los Angeles County.

Early this morning Deputy Sheriff D. J. Gillis found them walking along the highway near La Verne, and brought them to the county jail. The Snyder girl's mother was notified and she took her daughter to her home here.

COUGARS PLAY SONORA AGAIN FRIDAY AS TITLE GAME GOES 12 FRAMES TO TIE

"Mighty Casey" Tatum Keeps El Dorado In Race With Slashing Home Run To Tie Score In Last Of Ninth; Site Of Play-Off Uncertain, Says Coach Brown

The poetic version of "Casey at the Bat" has the hero striking out, but "Mighty Casey" Tatum doesn't read poetry.

He went in for the Cougars in the last half of the ninth inning Friday afternoon with Sonora leading 9 to 8 and two out.

There were two strikes on Tatum when a "nice, fat one" came right down the alley and Tatum slammed it into left field for four bases while Cougar fans, who had been about ready to concede a Sonora victory, went wild.

That tied the count at nine runs apiece and the two clubs battled through the tenth, eleventh and twelfth innings without further scores and the game was called on account of darkness.

It will be replayed on Friday afternoon of next week, to decide the Mother Lode League championship. Saturday morning Coach L. A. Brown did not know whether the game would be played in Placerville or at Sonora.

Tatum's home run, because of its timeliness, stands out as the supreme achievement of the game, which was played at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park, but there was plenty of baseball otherwise, too.

Carsten hit three for six, getting a double and a three-bagger. Buhler hit three for six, getting a double, and Ward hit three for six, one of them for two bases and one a home run.

Carsten had fourteen strikeouts. Scettie, the Sonora hurler, had twelve strikeouts and slammed out a home run in the first inning to open the scoring. Robinson, of Sonora, hit for three bases once and for two bases twice in six trips to the plate.

The short score:	R	H	E
Sonora	9	11	3
Cougars	9	14	3
Batteries:	Scettie and Condon, Chiappella; Carsten and Ward.
Score by innings:
Sonora	103	030	200
Cougars	203	010	021

Pershing Paid Tribute At Wedding

NEW YORK, (UP)—Warren Pershing, only son of Gen. John J. Pershing, and his bride, the former Muriel Bache Richards, leave today by airplane for San Francisco where they will begin a world cruise.

The General attended their wedding yesterday evening at St. Thomas church, but returned to his hotel suite immediately and did not go to the reception. The church was crowded with social, political, diplomatic and financial leaders, all of whom arose in tribute to the General when he entered five minutes before the ceremony, and remained standing until he was seated.

He declined a wheel chair and walked from and back to his automobile, smiling broadly as the crowd of 1000 outside the church applauded.

Michael Ryan Summoned

Aged Shingle Resident Was At One Time Road Overseer On Lake Tahoe Wagon Road

Michael Ryan, aged about 90 years, passed away Friday evening at a hospital in Placerville where he had been a patient for several weeks. Mr. Ryan had made his home at Shingle Springs for many years.

He was an old friend of the late A. B. Kyburz and in earlier life had served several years as a road overseer or maintenance superintendent on the Placerville and Lake Tahoe Wagon Road before it became a part of the state highway system.

Mr. Ryan was a native of County Tipperary, Ireland, and came to America as a youth. He located in Massachusetts for a short while and then came to California and to El Dorado County. In later years he had engaged in mining.

The body was given to the care of Memory Chapel and announcement is made of funeral services to be held Tuesday morning at ten o'clock from St. Patrick's church. Burial will be at Catholic cemetery.

MISSING VON PAPAN AIDE FOUND EASTER WEEK-END SUICIDE

BERLIN, (UP)—The disappearance of Baron Von Ketteler, secretary of Baron Franz Von Papan, was solved when it was established that he had committed suicide.

It was learned that Von Ketteler's body was found in a forest near Vienna during the Easter holidays. He had served as secretary to Von Papan before the latter retired recently as special ambassador to Austria, prior to the Anschluss.

German officials were silent regarding the whereabouts of Von Papan, but declared there was no basis for a dispatch carried by the London News Chronicle saying that his friends were anxious.

GET SENTENCE APRIL 28TH

Jury, Out Overnight, Reports Shortly After Ten A. M.; Acquittal On 4 Counts

Mitchell D. Siderius and Robert Fields, indicted by the Grand Jury in connection with highgrading at the Black Oak mine, are guilty of stealing $2,200 in gold ore from the mine on or about January 24, last.

This is the verdict of a jury which reported before Judge George H. Thompson in Superior Court shortly after ten o'clock Saturday morning, finding the defendants guilty on one count of grand theft. The two were found not guilty on four other counts.

The court set Thursday, April 28th, at ten o'clock in the morning, as the time for passing sentence and remanding the defendants to the custody of the sheriff.

The jury had retired to begin its deliberations about 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon and although the jury was locked up for the night at ten o'clock, it was learned Saturday morning that the jurors had debated the case until 2 o'clock Saturday morning, endeavoring to agree upon a verdict. It was ruled (Turn to page 3)

RIEBER GETS POST IN SACRAMENTO WPA HEADQUARTERS

SACRAMENTO.—B. H. Rieber, manager of the Sacramento office of the national youth administration who was dismissed in the shakeup precipitated by Mrs. Doris Leavitt of Oroville, has been given employment in the Sacramento WPA manager of the area, said yesterday.

Miss Laura DiMaggio, secretary under Rieber, who resigned at the time of Rieber's dismissal, also has been given WPA employment in the Sacramento office.

Neither Rieber nor Miss DiMaggio would discuss the matter.

The dismissal of Rieber followed the dismissal of Mrs. Leavitt for insubordination, a charge brought against her as a result of a letter of criticism of Van A. France of Sacramento, assistant area supervisor, which she wrote to Rieber, an officer under supervision of France.

F. S. Clough of Oakland, area supervisor, held that Mrs. Leavitt should have brought her criticism of France to him, as the head of the division.

Mexico Mining Towns Have Silvery Streets

WASHINGTON, (U)—Streets of several Mexican mining towns literally are literally paved with silver, the National Geographic Society reports.

"Early Spanish processes of separating silver from the ore were crude and left much silver in the tailings," the society said.

"The tailings often were used for road surfacing. When the silver content is particularly high, the tailings are being dug up and reworked."

Fred Wessels was in town Saturday near Shingle.

Dr. O. P. Fitch, wife and grandson were sight seeing in Coloma Tuesday.

A reception for Harold Winje and bride was given at our Community Hall Saturday evening. A large crowd gathered to wish the happy couple a prosperous journey through life and the merry making continued until after midnight.

Whist party at the hall this Saturday night which is expected to be the usual success.

The Gold Trail Grange will give a usual success.

Visitors over Easter at Coloma included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schultz, Clifford Archambault and party of Oakland, Dr. Ovieda and family and Mrs. George Weston of Sacramento.

The funeral of James Balderston was held at the old Episcopal Church here Tuesday afternoon under the direction of Memory Chapel. Rev. Morehouse of Placerville conducted services at the church. The building was filled to capacity with friends from many parts of the county. Services at the graveside were conducted in Lotus by the Odd Fellows and Rebekah Lodges, of which the deceased had been a member since young manhood. He was born in Hoddsville, England, in 1875 and came to America with his parents and grandparents in 1882. The family first settled in Austin, Nevada, coming to El Dorado County in 1884 where they engaged in ranching. In 1895 and after, the deceased drove one of the teams hauling fruit across the mountains to Carson and Virginia City for the Veerkamp and Sweeney families. With the exception of a short period spent in Arizona in search of health his home has been here. The past ten years he has conducted a small store in Coloma. He will be missed for his kindly consideration to every one.

mored that ten were agreed upon a verdict to which two other refused, until Saturday forenoon, to subscribe.

The conviction on one count makes the defendants liable to a maximum sentence of from one to ten years in prison.

Trial of the case got under way Wednesday afternoon about 2 o'clock after the selection of a jury had been completed. Several witnesses were presented by the state which applied to both defendants and one of which applied to the defendant Fields alone, were dismissed by Judge Thompson on motion of District Attorney Henry S. Lyon, who declared there was a lack of sufficient corroborating evidence as to those counts.

This left five counts on trial. A defense motion for a directed verdict was denied and the defense rested.

Attorneys Wallace Shepard and R. C. Fleming, for the defense, in their arguments before the jury, contended that the state had failed to produce sufficient corroborative evidence to warrant finding the defendants guilty.

The opening argument for the state was by Attorney C. W. Pearson and garet Percy.

Homestead Staked On Newly Formed Isle

WAYZATA, Minn., (U)—E. M. Patch of Wayzata is probably the only man in his county who hopes the receding waters of Lake Minnetonka will never come back.

Patch has discovered the site for a new home in the middle of the lake. A three-acre island has emerged from the old lake bottom. He has staked out a claim on it, fenced it and posted "keep off" signs.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon closed. Mr. Lyon had named Mr. Pearson as his associate in the prosecution, since Mr. Pearson had been familiar with the case throughout, as a result of his being employed by Russell J. Wilson, the mine owner, to represent him in a civil actions seeking recovery of stolen gold.

The arguments of counsel were concluded shortly after mid-afternoon Friday and upon the completion of the court's instructions as to the law governing the case, the jury retired.

Miss Margaret A. Kelley was foreman. Other Jurors were: Joseph Frazier, Ernest Brown, Anne Klinger, Pearl Oates, Ethel Cody, Leo Flynn, Edward Althoff, Victor Banta, Charles Leventon, Katherine Johnson and Margaret Percy.

Navy Men Circumvent State Sales Tax

PHILADELPHIA, (U)—Sailors at the Philadelphia Navy Yard are amused over the way they "beat" the city's 2 per cent sales tax.

The sailors have their purchases sent to the yard, government property, and therefore exempt from the tax.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Placerville, Bedford Avenue at Union Street.

PROBATION AFTER DEATH.
Services, 11 a. m. Sunday School 9:30 a. m. Wednesday evening. Testimonial Meeting 8 p. m.
The reading room at the church building is open Tuesday and Friday from 2 o'clock until 4 o'clock.

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live." These words from John comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, April 24, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Probation after Death." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept. For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (1 Cor. 15: 19-22). The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "If man is never to overcome death, why do the Scriptures say: 'The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death?' The tenor of the World shows that we shall obtain the victory over death in proportion as we overcome sin" (p. 427).

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, (P)—Sometimes people ask me why I am a sports writer, and their very tone tells me that they think my business is an unimportant one and doesn't matter much in the world scheme of things.

Sometimes I almost feel they're right and then again along comes an afternoon like yesterday afternoon, when the breeze is soft and the sun is warm, and the Polo Grounds is all bright and green, and Raymond Brinkerhoff experiences the thrill that comes once in a lifetime.

I don't know of any business that lets a man look on human emotions more than sportswriting does. I've been at it 10 years now, and it seems I'm always watching men cryin', men dyin', men sighin', men laughin', or men hurtin' all the time.

Take Raymond Brinkerhoff at the Polo Grounds the other day. You never heard of him? Neither had I until Casey Stengel, Boston Bees' manager, yelled across the dugout and said if I wanted to see the biggest pair of hands in the world, I should get a load of that kid over by the batting cage. Casey pointed to a gangling boy, out-fitted in a ragged old uniform that didn't come close to fitting him.

Casey yelled:

"Come 'ere Raymond!"

Raymond came over, and as he stood there, all elbows and knees and neck and all the other things that go to make up a boy who hasn't quite yet become a man, Casey told me about him.

About a year ago, Casey, on his way to Brooklyn from a show in New York, had a flat tire. He pulled into a filling station in Greenwich village, and there was Raymond. Raymond recognized Casey and told him that he was a great amateur pitcher and wanted to know how to get a job with a ball club. Casey told him to write a manager and ask for a try-out. Casey wasn't a manager then, but he hadn't been signed with Boston more than a week before he got a letter from Raymond.

Casey thought it was a gag, but answered and said, "When I come to town with the Bees, meet me at the Polo Grounds."

Raymond met him—in a home-made baseball suit, worn out shoes, and a cap that didn't fit.

Casey Stengel is a sweet man as well as a funny man. So during batting practice, he told Raymond to go out and throw to the hitters. He thought that Raymond would be scared, nervous, shaky and no good.

Raymond fooled him. Loose as Hubbell, Raymond whipped 'em across the plate. The 15,000 early customers in the Polo Grounds who were watching, did not bother him a bit. A fast ball. A change of pace. A curve. Raymond threw them all up there. Before he was through, Stengel was watching him closely. So were Turner and Fette, Boston's star pitchers. And on the other side of the field, the old master Hubbell stopped his warming up to take a look, as did Terry and Gus Mancuso and others who know a natural pitching motion when they see one.

Raymond came back to the dugout. Casey asked him if he could go to Boston with the Bees.

"Not for a couple of days, Mr. Stengel," Raymond said, "because my only suit is in hock. I hocked it for $5.75, and I'll have to work two days on the docks unloading ships to get it out. But when I do I'll come to Boston."

Casey had him throw some to a catcher. "How do you throw when men are on base?" Casey asked, wanting to find out if he knew anything about position when runners were on.

"I pitch better'n ever when guys are on base," Raymond said naively.

"If you come to Boston, will you be homesick?" Casey asked.

"The dough will make up for that," Raymond answered. And then he asked a question, "You guys don't get homesick, do you?"

"Well—listen Raymond," Casey said, "don't you play night ball down there in Greenwich? How do I know you would do all right in daylight?"

"Mr. Casey," Raymond answered, "we don't have night ball where I live. Down there we're lucky to have street lamps."

Casey gave him money enough to travel to Boston.

It was the biggest day in Raymond's life. I saw him go through it. Whenever you are in a business that enables you to watch a fellow rise from dock wallowing to heaven, you're in a pretty good business.

Tornadoes To Be Bombed By Colorado Airmen

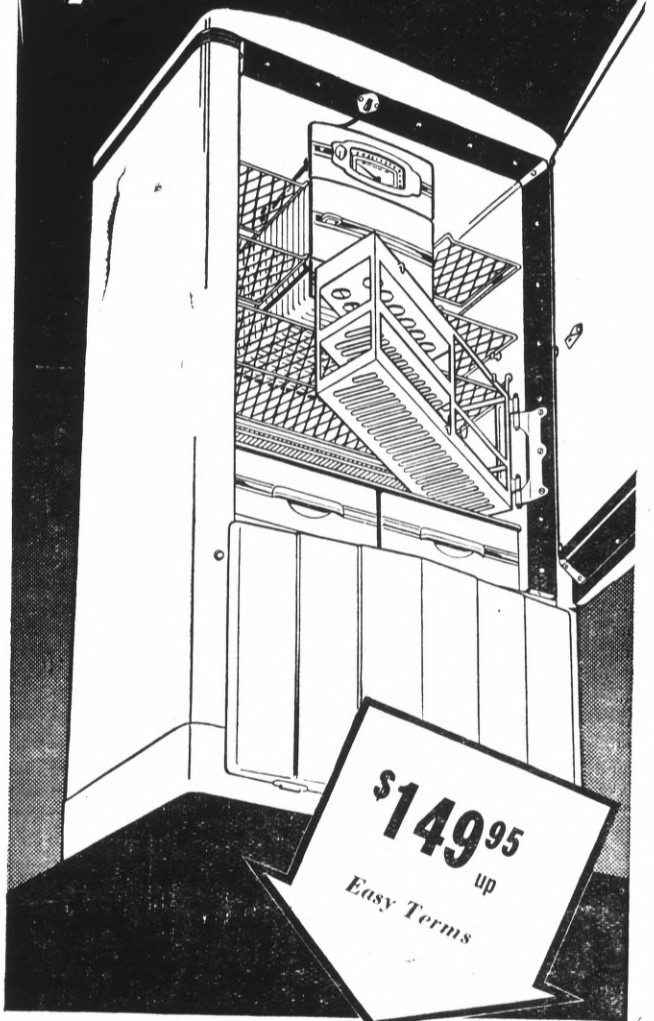

DENVER, (P)—The National Guard today planned war on tornadoes. Adj. Gen. A. P. Ardourel, commander, told Gov. Teller Ammons that he had a plan to drop bombs on the twisters and blast them out of existence before they do any damage. Colorado averages one tornado a year, meteorologists' records showed.

BOWLER HITS 3000

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (P)—Two 300-pin games were rolled within a week by Tony Mack, Newburgh bowler. At the same time, he scored high totals of 843 and 770 for three-game series. He failed to qualify for national recognition, however, because the scores were not made in a league match.
